Myra, Verlon Jones Win Talent Award

Myra and Verlon Jones, a diminutive sister act in fresh summery organdy and with a world of personality and talent, won the undisputed top position on Malcolm Miller's Talent Scout Show at the Prince Theatre, Tuesday night.

The first prize winners are the nine and five year old daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jones.

The girls won thunderous applause with their initial offering, "Don't Put a Tax on the Beautiful Girls," an Eddy Cantor hit of 1919 and their rendition of "Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue" garnered even greater applause.

Lory Ann Rockwell won an undisputed second place on this program. Miss Rockwell showed real promise as a tap dancer with a sense of rhythm so essential to success in this art. Her two dance offerings brought her a right hand of appreciation from the crowd.

Glenda Russom at the piano gave two very nice offerings, which brought her appreciative applause. Sandy Smith offered two song numbers. Sandy pitched her first number too high, but with true showmanship she carried on to get a nice hand. Her second number improved as she came away nicely.

Joan Michaels, guest star from Belle Glade, delighted the audience with two lovely piano renditions.

Steve Blunt, with his guitar and natural cowboy style of singing, was presented as the second guest star and took the house with his second offering.

This is the third week of the elimination contests and the programs are improving as this popular event moves along.

Communication

Tallahassee
July 18, 1952

Mr. Paul Rardin
Canal Point, Florida
Dear Paul:

Enclosed is a copy of a letter from Mr. Cecil Webb, President of the Dixie Lily Milling Company, of Tampa. I believe you could make a good story out of this by printing Mr. Webb's letter.

If we could find a good white corn that will grow successfully in the Everglades, it would be another big step forward.

With kindest regards and best wishes, I am

Yours sincerely
Natha Mayo
Commissioner

Tampa, Florida
July 16, 1952

Honorable Nathan Mayo
Commissioner, Dept. of Agriculture
Tallahassee, Florida

My dear Commissioner:

I wish that some way your Department could encourage the Lake Okechobee area to raise some good white milling corn. As I understand they can raise two crops a year on the Okechobee land and with our mills in Florida we have a ready market for approximately one-half million or more pounds per year.

If we could accomplish this, we would keep our money in the great sunshine state of Florida.

Sincerely yours
Dixie Lily Milling Co., Inc.
Cecil E. Webb, President

The store will be located in space formerly occupied by Bolton's Drug Store in the Cate building which is being repaired and remodeled for the new tenant, who plans to move in sometime in August.

General Motors has perfected an air-conditioning unit for passenger cars that will be available for installation on two makes next season—Cadillac and Oldsmobile.

Plan To Organize Men's Garden Club

The Pahokee-Canal Point Garden Club will conduct a general meeting and covered dish supper at the city park in Pahokee Thursday, July 31, at 6 p. m.

Plans are being made to organize a Men's Garden Circle and a new Woman's Night Garden Circle at this important meeting, according to Mrs. Frank Friend, club president. Husbands of club members and all other prospective new members are invited to attend as guests.

Thanks Are In Order

(An Editorial in the Palm Beach Post, July 17, 1952)

Palm Beach County Commission is to be congratulated for an efficient, economical operation during the past fiscal year, and for again slightly lowering the tax rate while at the same time increasing its budget for the new fiscal year.

Had it not been for efficient operation, through economy, last year, there would have been no carry-over of cash to this fiscal year, and with resultant greater costs of needs and other services this year, the tax rate might have had to be jumped, instead of cut.

As it stands, however, with a budget of $3,096,529 this year, which is an increase of $313,529 over last year, the Commissioners, because of a carry-over and expectations of larger collections through increased valuations and assessments have reduced the operation millage by 1-100th mill. It's not much, but it IS a cut instead of a raise!

This type of county operation, we believe, is what the already over-burdened taxpayer is looking for in government today. He is looking for it, strenuously if hopelessly, because all types of taxation have been rising instead of falling for the past two years. For Palm Beach County, however, this is the second small tax reduction in a row, a 3-100ths of a mill being instituted for last year's budget.

Few will deny the Commission's point that costs for materials and services have risen steadily in the past two years. Therefore, the Commission's estimate of more for county operation during the next fiscal year is not unreasonable.

But one thing should be kept in mind while evaluating the situation.

That is the fact that it is only because of the GROWTH of property, and therefore an increased property ASSESSMENT in the county that such an increase in operating expense can be reconciled with another tax reduction. That, and the fact that the Commission has economized during the past year to the extent that some cash has been carried over for use this year.

It all speaks well for the governmental group of Palm Beach County, and we here are only too happy to give the Commission the word of praise for efficient work that comes seldom to men who spend the public's tax money.

Heavy taxation appears to be with us for a long time. It is a bright gleam on the tax horizon, therefore, when even a small cut in levies are noted.

Public Concert Is Scheduled July 26

A free public concert, featuring the gospel singing of the Italian Trio, Lake City, will be held at the Community Center in Canal Point Saturday, July 26, at 8 p. m., under the sponsorship of the Glades Singing Convention. Everyone is invited to attend.

This trio, composed of three young women, is rated as one of the most talented groups of gospel singers in the State, and they are also skilled musicians on the accordion, electric guitar, piano and other instruments.

On Sunday, July 27, the Italian Trio will also sing at a meeting of the Glades Singing Convention in the Pahokee First Baptist Church, starting at 2 p. m. All persons interested in the singing of hymns are invited.

At a recent election to name new officers for the coming year Elmer (Babe) Upthegrove was elected president of the Glades Singing Convention and M. M. Martin, Jr., secretary.

The "Oldest House in St. Augustine" is now a museum, and historians believe it to have been built in the late 16th century. It has an unbroken chain of titles dating back to 1763.

State Guardsmen Will Go To West Point

ST. AUGUSTINE—Two Florida National Guardsmen will be among nine from the entire nation to enter West Point Military Academy this month, it was announced by Maj. Gen Mark W. Lance, state adjutant general.

The two guardsmen who won appointments after stiff competitive examinations are James L. Donier of Arcadia and Charles E. Pool of Miami Beach, and both are members of the 712th Anti-Aircraft Battalion.

FASTEST CURRENT

MIAMI — The fastest current ever measured in the open ocean has been found in the Gulf Stream by University of Miami scientists.

Dr. F. G. Walton Smith, head of the university's Marine Laboratory, announced an 11 mile-an-hour current had been discovered about 15 miles offshore from Miami Beach. Available records show this to be the highest speed of any open ocean current measured throughout the world.

A Florida Citrus Mutual statistician, Bob White, has estimated that fresh fruit shipments of grapefruit set a new record this season.

County Road Work Goes At Lively Pace

County road forces under the direction of County Commissioner Paul Rardin have been unusually busy during the past 30 days completing several road projects in the Lake Okechobee Region.

One of the jobs recently completed was the building of a mile of new rock road in the Belle Glade community just north of Chosen to serve several farmers in that area. Another half mile of rock road in the same community is under construction and will be completed soon.

County forces are busy today oiling and rocking Canal Street in South Bay, this road having been completely rebuilt by the county.

Rardin Avenue in Pahokee was retreaded on Wednesday of this week by the county with a two-inch hot mix wearing surface. Rubin Construction company of West Palm Beach did the retread job for the county, Rardin said, under their low bid received a few weeks ago.

Yesterday the same construction concern retreaded Lake Front Drive in Canal Point as a county operation, having received the contract on their low bid at the meeting of the county commission on July 14.

Bids will be received on July 30 by the State Road Department on 1.5 miles of Vinegar Bend Road which will connect that much used county road with the recently constructed Bolles Canal Road. This work is being done at the direction of Commissioner Rardin, who under the seventh cent gas tax plan can specify where certain monies are to be spent.

Construction work on the state project, Road 717, Road 80 to Bacom Point, is proceeding according to plan. Work started at Road 80 beyond Chosen and is proceeding northward to Bacom Point. The base rock has been put on the road to a point several hundred yards north of Chosen.

Revenue Source Is Need For Building Roads In Florida

TALLAHASSEE—A New York firm of consulting engineers, Parsons, Brinckerhoff, Hall and McDonald, employed to make a survey of Florida's present and anticipated revenues of the State Road Department, based on present sources of income, will amount to $1-1/2 billion over the next 20 years.

This figure was contained in the second installment of the report on the state's future highway needs.

The estimate includes all revenue from gasoline taxes as well as funds available through federal aid grants.

The consultants point out, however, that these anticipated funds will fall far short of the amount needed to provide for the new road system and general maintenance that will be called for during the next 20 years.

In the first chapter of its report the consulting engineers pointed out that the funds now being received by the department are inadequate to meet present day needs, and our roads are wearing out faster than they can be constructed with the present income.

The next chapter of the eight-installment report being made from a careful survey will deal with deficiencies in the Road Department's future financial picture.

Chairman Alfred McKethan said. The prime purpose of the survey by the New York firm was to determine the need of toll turnpikes linking Jacksonville and Miami, but the general information on road conditions and future needs will prove valuable to road department officials who seek to work out an intelligent long-range program, adequately financed to meet not only present day needs but the expanding needs that will develop in the years ahead.

The report would seem to indicate that if Florida is to build and maintain an adequate road system to meet present and future needs, some new sources of revenue will have to be developed.

NEW ENGINEER

TALLAHASSEE—Jack W. Summit, of Monticello, has been named Utility Field Engineer by the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission. This is a newly created post brought about by an act of the last legislature which placed the Commission in charge of supervising public utilities.

Three Hurt When Car Is Smashed

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hengge and their three-year-old son, James Louis, of Cincinnati, Ohio, are in the Everglades Memorial Hospital receiving treatment for injuries resulting from a car accident that occurred on US 441 approximately seven miles north of Canal Point Tuesday, according to State Patrolman J. P. Bertrand who investigated.

Mrs. Hengge, who was driving their 1952 Ford coach on the return of a vacation trip to Miami, lost control of the car when her sleepy son slumped against the steering wheel. The car, traveling around 60 miles an hour, ran 225 feet on the right shoulder, then crossing the highway, it jumped a ditch and bounced 150 feet in a rough field before coming to a halt. Louis Young, a Negro, saw the crash and came to their assistance.

The boy was the most seriously injured, receiving concussions and a possible fractured skull. Mr. and Mrs. Hengge both suffered severe bruises, cuts and lacerations on the face and knees. Their six-year old daughter, also a passenger, was uninjured.

Bertrand estimated the damage to the car at approximately $900.

Citrus Group Thinks Chains For Help

LAKELAND—The Florida Citrus Commission adopted a resolution last week commending chain stores of the nation for their splendid cooperation in helping to create a market for Florida citrus fruit.

The resolution commends the National Association of Food Chains for their nation-wide promotion of Florida fruit.

Meeting early this year with representatives of the Florida Citrus Commission, Florida Citrus Exchange, Florida Canners Association and processors of citrus including Snow Crop and Minute Maid, retail officials headed by J. E. Davis of Winn-Lovett Grocery Company, Jacksonville, and president of the National Association of Food Chains, discussed the need for special emphasis on Florida citrus merchandising in the large retail outlets of the nation.

The program subsequently put into effect by the trade groups was one of the major factors leading to the favorable position the industry finds itself in today.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Griffiths and son, Mark, have returned to their home here after a visit with relatives in Rome, Ga.

Pure-bred cattle—sign of the South's new, balanced agriculture—mean more money for stockmen, better standards of living on the farm, a growing demand for telephones.

Farm telephone expansion has been one of Southern Bell's biggest and most important jobs for years—and today is more important than ever. It is a job that takes a lot of money, materials, experience, know-how—and time.

In just the past 6 years we have tripled our rural telephones. We're building more and more rural lines as fast as scarce materials and defense needs permit.

Me—Advising a Banker!

The Missus and I were invited to dinner over at Balesville the other night. I sat next to a banker from the state capital.

"Mighty nice country you've got down there," he says. "Don't be surprised if I come to live there myself. In a few years I plan to get away from everybody, buy a farm and just take it easy."

"Well," I told him, "we'd like to have you. But when someone plans to buy a farm and 'take it easy' he often winds up working harder than ever. It takes work to run a farm right no matter how many hands you can afford to hire.

"And from where I sit," I continued, "you won't get away from people either. Neighbors are plenty important in a farming community—whether it's helping one another out or just friendly visiting over a sociable glass of beer." "Hard work and neighbors dropping in all the time?" he asks, looking at me over his glasses. Then he smiles and says, "Sounds wonderful. You've just sold me on a farm."

Do you have Series E Defense Bonds coming due this year?

Here's a money-earning opportunity for you

Now—a new law lets your maturing Series E Bonds go on earning for you ten years longer! And you don't have to do a thing!

ARE YOU one of those patriotic citizens who began buying—and holding—Series E Bonds ten years ago? Now your government is going to reward your faith with a chance for your bonds to earn extra money—over and above what you'd expected!

According to the bill passed by Congress last spring, it is now possible for your United States Series E Bonds to continue earning interest ten years longer than was originally planned.

Therefore, if you started an automatic bond saving plan, and helped your country at the same time, you can look forward to ten years more of effortless earning from the bonds you bought!

For example, a Series E Bond which cost you $18.75 in 1942 will pay you $25 in 1962. But if you hold that bond ten extra years, until 1962, it will pay you $33.33, an average interest of 2.9%.

And there is nothing for you, as a bond holder, to do. You need not exchange the bonds you have. You need not sign any paper, fill out any form. You simply keep your bonds as you have been keeping them.

You may still redeem any Series E Bond at any time after you've owned it for sixty days. (The tables on this page show what you can get for it.) But, unless you really need the cash you're much better off to hold your bonds; they are a paying method of saving. Bonds are safer than cash! Cash is too easily spent on non-essential things. And if you lose or accidentally destroy it, you're out that much money. But when you have cash in Defense Bonds, you're more apt to hold on to it. And if your bonds are lost or destroyed, the Treasury will replace them for you at no cost or loss to you.

The cash you have in bond savings is safe and solid; and it's steadily growing toward a sum big enough to buy something really worth while when the proper time comes—a home, a business, a retirement fund, an education for your children.

So if you have bonds coming due, take advantage of this new offer of your government—just sit back and let them go on making money. Meanwhile keep adding to your savings by buying more United States Defense Bonds regularly—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank.

If you want to be paid your interest as current income—

The new law also allows you to exchange your Series E Bonds, in blocks of $500 or more, for Special Series G Bonds which pay interest semiannually at the rate of 2 1/4% per year. For full details, ask at any Federal Reserve Bank or Branch.

Here's how Series E Defense Bonds earn the first 10 years

Florida Aircraft Carrier Basin Will Be First In Deep South

SOON TO BE COMPLETED near Jacksonville, Fla., the big Mayport Carrier Basin will be the only harbor facility between Norfolk and San Diego large enough to accommodate the Navy's big aircraft carriers. The steel bulkhead which surrounds the basin is one of the largest ever constructed in Florida, containing nearly eight and a half million pounds of steel.

One of the largest steel water-front bulkheads ever constructed in Florida is nearing completion at the Navy's new Mayport Carrier Basin near Jacksonville.

Literally a curtain of steel to separate land from water, the wall reaches down from 33 to 53 feet below water level and extends for more than a mile around the aircraft carrier port being built near the mouth of the St. Johns River.

Nearly eight and a half million pounds of steel sheet piling, rolled on the mills of United States Steel and supplied through its Tennessee Coal and Iron Division, at Birmingham, Ala., have been driven down into the sandy bottom of the harbor to make a sheltered harbor of sufficient size to berth America's largest carriers.

To be ready for operation very soon, the basin will be the only port between Norfolk and San Diego of sufficient size and depth to permit the entry of the Navy's largest vessels. Construction work was begun approximately a year ago.

First developed during World War II, the Mayport facility is an auxiliary unit of the big Jacksonville Naval Air Station, 20 miles away. During the last war, it served as a small boat section base, into which mine sweepers and other smaller naval craft were brought for docking and repairs. It was also equipped with housing facilities for Naval personnel assigned to land duty, and contained several runways for Navy aircraft. Since 1946, it had been out of service and had been manned only by a small maintenance crew.

In addition to mooring and minor repair facilities for the carrier, itself, a modern airfield is being built. Existing runways are being rebuilt and new ones are under construction, including an 8,000 foot landing strip for jet planes. At the dock, cranes may be installed to lift planes from the flight deck of the carrier, for storage, maintenance or inspection in the Mayport storage area or for flight to the main station at Jacksonville.

Building the basin has been a construction and engineering task of major proportions. To accommodate vessels of such great draft, it was necessary to increase the depth to 42 feet, far below the original level. Because of the highly fluid nature of the sandy banks surrounding the basin, permanent deepening could not have been accomplished without first building sturdy bulkheads around the entire inland perimeter.

Large enough to permit a carrier to turn around and head back to sea, the basin is 3000 feet long and 2000 feet wide. Building a sand-tight wall around it required thousands of strips of sheet piling, each more than a quarter of an inch thick and about a foot and a half wide, and ranging up to 60 feet in length.

To sink the piling into place, each piece was first "jetted" into the sand, being interlocked with the neighboring piece by means of the "connecting" device built into the piling. In jetting, a hose with a high velocity nozzle is strapped near the bottom of each pile, and then, with the pile held in an upright position, a stream of water at tremendous pressure literally knocks the sand from under the pile, allowing it to settle deep into the ground. When more solid strata of earth were reached, steam hammers pounded the pieces down to their maximum depth.

Once the piling was set into place, it was anchored permanently by connection to a "dead man." Not so gruesome as it sounds, this is a massive, continuously cast concrete structure which is set underground and encircles the basin some distance behind the bulkhead. Steel tie rods join the bulkhead to the concrete form.

To complete the job, a heavy concrete casement is being cast around the top edge of the bulkhead. The banks behind the casement are being filled in with sand, making a flat, smooth approach to the harbor from all angles. For all its size, the basin will be as neat and tight as a bathtub.

Tons Of Fish Taken Under New Seine Law

TALLAHASSEE — Controlled seining operations on Lake George, Crescent, and Okeechobee netted a total of 463,278 pounds of fish, including 178,906 pounds of roughfish and salt water fish, during the first three weeks of the program, it was reported today by John F. Dequine, chief fisheries biologist of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Dequine said that the total included 114,193 pounds of black bass and pickerel and 23,434 pounds of non-predatory turtles which were returned to the lakes. This total also included a number of salt water fish which game species, such as tarpon, snook and ladyfish, were placed back in the waters.

The breakdown on the three lakes follows:

Lake George: 23,977 pounds of bass and pickerel, 59,744 pounds of bream and crappie, 20,232 pounds of catfish, 24,776 pounds of roughfish and predatory turtles, and 23,434 pounds of non-predatory turtles.

The seining operations are part of a three-year experimental program designed to improve sports fishing opportunities by removing the roughfish and harvesting surplus populations of panfish. All roughfish are destroyed while bream and crappie are sold after being tagged and inspected at a designated checking station. The project is under strict Commission supervision.

Courts Particular Says State Justice

TAMPA—Speaking before the Bar Association here, Justice John E. Matthews said that the delay in handing down decisions by the Supreme Court is due to its efforts to minimize mistakes and produce impartial rulings.

Comparing the viewpoint of lawyer and judge, Matthews pointed out that both seek justice, but the practicing attorney "becomes sold on his client's case and feels justice should be done, but cannot be done unless his client wins."

To the judge, whose aim is to be impartial, the spirit of the contest and battle is absent.

In concluding his talk, Justice Matthews lashed out with a denunciation of the growing bureaucracy of government which is destroying the liberties of the people. He also expressed alarm at the increasing disrespect for public officials.

"There seems to be a calculated move to undermine the confidence of the people in their government and even in the judiciary," he said.

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

The great verity that God heals today, as in Jesus' time, when He is fully trusted and understood is stressed in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches next Sunday when the subject is "TRUTH".

A verse from I John (5: 6) provides the Golden Text: "It is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth."

The following from Matthew (6: 24) is in the Lesson: "No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon."

Among correlative citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following: "Drugs and hygiene cannot successfully usurp the place and power of the divine source of all health and perfection. . . . Only through radical reliance on Truth can scientific healing power be realized" (p. 167).

Decontrol Will Not Affect Citrus Sales

LAKELAND—The Government's decontrol program of all canned and frozen citrus products will not make much difference in the marketing picture, according to Assistant-General Manager Robert Rutledge of the Florida Citrus Mutual.

Ralph Henry, advertising manager of the Florida Citrus Commission, concurred.

C. C. Rathbun, executive secretary of the Florida Cannery Association, said that northern fruits and vegetables were the only things likely to be affected by the control order.

Merritt C. Farrar, director of the Florida Audubon Society, says there's an easy way to identify a poisonous coral snake as compared to the non-poisonous false coral. If the snake has a black snout, look out for him. The harmless coral has a yellow snout.

Sunday Funerals Oked In Pahokee

The Pahokee City Council at a meeting last week turned thumbs down on the proposal that an ordinance be passed prohibiting Sunday funeral services and burials. In rejecting the proposal the Council was of the opinion such an ordinance would result in government interfering with religious practices, that families of some religious denominations might prefer burials on Sunday and if such was the case the city has no right to impose restrictions.

Bids for a new city dump truck were opened and the contract for its purchase was awarded to Elliott-Lynn Motors, Inc., Pahokee.

D. W. Cunningham, local director of civil defense, reported night and day operations for the spotting of planes have started and asked the city to get the spotters' shelter house, used in World War II, in good condition for use. The council voted to spend up to $100 in screening the shelter and making necessary repairs, with Councilman Loren Meredith to supervise the work.

Acting on a request by Police Chief Leon Guthrie, the group voted to purchase 26 new traffic and parking signs for city streets.

Miss Patsy Batchelor was employed on the office staff of the city clerk's office to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Mrs. Johanna Tillis, effective Aug. 1.

Additional street lighting facilities for West Main Street was voted.

Commercial fishermen netted 87,781 pounds of fish in Lake Okechobee last week under the supervision of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.
